F&M REGIONAL CHAPTER PROGRAM

EVENT CATALOG FOR BLUE CHAPTERS

This Catalog is a collection of past email blasts that supported Blue Chapter outreach efforts and events. The events represented here were successful in attracting attendees and representing the mission of the Franklin & Marshall Regional Chapters program.

Past events included here have utilized the connections of local alumni and trustees to access unique program opportunities and have targeted a variety of audiences through the attractions offered. They were planned by local volunteers in partnership with staff from the College’s Alumni & Parent Relations office.

For more information about any of these events and to get started planning activities in your area, please contact Aimee Achorn Fasnacht in Alumni & Parent Relations at aachorn@fandm.edu or (717) 358-4719.
BREAK-EVEN EVENTS

Generally speaking, events that break even in terms of cost are simpler to plan logistically and can be ready to promote more quickly. They also require less promotion lead time, because of the limited financial exposure involved.

The costs of the events represented here were fully covered by attendee registration fees. Where noted, an alumnus or trustee helped to obtain a venue or attraction at a reduced price or at no cost.

FLAGSHIP EVENTS

Flagship events represent our highest quality Regional Chapter programs, and they are usually more complex logistically. They should be planned 4-6 months in advance and promoted 2-3 months in advance, to allow F&M Friends ample opportunity to participate.

The events represented here required funding beyond the income generated by registration fees to pay for space rental, faculty travel and other large costs.

The cost of these events were covered by a combination of PEP Award funding, attendee registration fees, financial contributions from the Alumni & Parent Relations office and contributions from alumni and trustees (where noted).

PEP (Premier Event Programming) awards are made available by the Alumni Association Board’s Chapters Committee through an application process. Alumni Association Board members who serve on local Chapter Councils and staff of the College’s Alumni & Parent Relations office can assist local Chapter volunteers in applying for this funding.

A member of the International Jazz Hall of Fame, Junior Mance began his career as a jazz pianist in 1947 with Gene Ammons' band and later performed with the likes of Dinah Washington, Cannonball Adderley and Dizzy Gillespie. He formed his own trio in 1961 and followed with the release of multiple record albums. Junior has appeared with the "100 GOLD FINGERS," an elite jazz group that tours Japan every other year, and is also a member of the faculty of The New School's Jazz and Contemporary Music Program. He teaches classes in Blues and Ballads, and offers private lessons.

Paul Weinstein '53 came to a love of jazz early in life. As a child in the 40's, he and his father enjoyed Sunday concerts by jazz greats like Louis Armstrong and Fats Waller at New York's Town Hall. Later, in the 60's, he was a regular at the well-known jazz showcase, Dick Gibson's Colorado Jazz Party, and a lifelong avocation was born. Paul began producing jazz parties of his own in the 60's, including the "Heavenly Jazz" series that ran for three decades. Paul also brought jazz to F&M in the 70's with concerts including musicians like Al Cohn, Zoot Sims and Joe Venuti.

Our event includes a two-hour, guided walking tour of Old City Philadelphia, lunch at the historic City Tavern, a presentation by F&M History Professor Ted Pearson and visits from some special guests.

We begin with a tour of Independence Hall and wind through the streets that Franklin once called home. We will visit Franklin's gravesite, Christ Church and Franklin Court, and end our walk at City Tavern with a period-inspired lunch and Franklin's Poor Richard Ale. No doubt Ben himself would approve!

Whether you're a Philadelphia native or have never been here before, our day should offer new insights into Franklin's life and his impact on all of us.

Availability is limited, so register online today! A complete itinerary with meet-up instructions will be sent by email to registered guests the week before the event.

For answers to questions regarding the Walking Tour of Old City Philadelphia, or regarding this email, please contact F&M Alumni Relations at 866-925-5500.

F&M's Metro New York Regional Chapter Presents a Private Concert Featuring

Legendary Jazz Trumpeter Jon Faddis with Jazz Guitarists Gene Bertoncini and Howard Alden

Join us for an exhilarating evening of jazz featuring legendary trumpeter Jon Faddis and guitarists Gene Bertoncini and Howard Alden. This musical program is being produced by Paul Weinstein ’53, and it’s an experience you won’t want to miss. We will begin with a wine and cheese reception at 7 p.m. followed by musical sets at 7:30 p.m. and 9 p.m.

Jon Faddis is known as the greatest jazz trumpeter of his generation. He began playing the trumpet at the age of 8, inspired by the performances of Dizzy Gillespie, with whom he was collaborating by his mid-teens. He has played live and in studio with many of American music’s greatest artists including Sarah Vaughan, Duke Ellington and Frank Sinatra. He performed at the White House in 1982 at the age of 29, and his horn was also heard on the theme of the "Cosby Show."

Gene Bertoncini is one of today’s pre-eminent jazz guitarists. He has performed with musical greats including Benny Goodman, Buddy Rich and Tony Bennett. Bertoncini honed his skills as a member of Johnny Carson’s "Tonight Show" band and has performed with the Metropolitan Opera Orchestra.

Howard Alden began playing the guitar at the age of 10, inspired by the music of Benny Goodman and Count Basie. He has performed with the likes of Woody Herman, Bud Freeman and Dizzy Gillespie. In 2004, Alden was the guitarist and musical director for a 50-city concert tour celebrating the 50th anniversary of the Newport Jazz Festival.

Brunch with Professor David Schuyler at the Pennsylvania Academy of Fine Arts

Public Treasures/Private Visions: Hudson River School Masterworks from the Metropolitan Museum of Art and Select Private Collections

Join us for a memorable program led by American Studies Professor David Schuyler, a delicious brunch catered by award-winning Jimmy Duffy's and a tour of the Pennsylvania Academy of Fine Arts' current exhibit of Hudson River School paintings. Professor Schuyler will discuss the history and context of these stunning masterworks, and he and several PAFA docents will be on hand to share their insights as part of the exhibit experience. Brunch and tours will take place in PAFA's historic landmark building, opened in 1876 for our nation's Centennial Exposition and World's Fair.

Public Treasures/Private Visions is a rare opportunity to see paintings that seldom travel outside of New York City, as well as paintings from superlative select private collections of Hudson River School art. The Hudson River School is one of the most influential traditions in the history of American landscape painting. Ranging from grand visions of the American West to quiet forest interiors, American painters absorbed the traditions of European landscape artists and reinvented them to celebrate the distinctiveness of the vast American landscape, and created new art for a new land.

Having performed early in his career with jazz greats including Lester Young, Duke Ellington, Count Basie, Nat King Cole, Sammy Davis Jr., Billie Holiday and Lena Horne, Hamilton made his name as a band leader beginning in 1955 and continuing for decades.

In 1997, Chico received the New School University Jazz & Contemporary Music Program's "Beacons in Jazz Award." This award recognized Hamilton for his "significant contribution to the evolution of Jazz." In 2004, Hamilton was awarded a National Endowment for the Arts Jazz Master Fellowship, and in 2006, Congress confirmed the President's nomination of Chico to the President's Council on the Arts. In 2007, Chico received a "Living Legacy Jazz Award" as part of The Kennedy Center’s Jazz in Our Time Festival, as well as a Doctorate of Fine Arts from the New School.

As dynamic as ever at the age of 87, Chico Hamilton has a resume that includes film scores, original compositions, commercial jingles, over 50 albums as a band leader and countless international tours. Hamilton teaches at the New School's Jazz Program and tours extensively in North America and records with his band "Euphoria" and is working on an autobiography.
