

Visiting Assistant Professor or Visiting Instructor, Psychology, Franklin & Marshall College

The Psychology Department at Franklin & Marshall College invites applications for a visiting assistant professor (if Ph.D. earned by July 1, 2018) or visiting instructor (if ABD) during academic year 2018-2019. Appointment is for a one-year term beginning July 1, 2018. Teaching load is 3/2. Successful candidates will contribute to at least two of the following teaching areas: Introductory Psychology, Cognitive Science, and Moral Psychology. The successful candidate will contribute to the Program in Scientific and Philosophical Studies of Mind.

The department is committed to excellence in scholarship and teaching, emphasizing student research and lab experience throughout the curriculum. Pursuant to the college's vision for cultivating a diverse and inclusive community, the search committee will ask all applicants to address how their past and/or potential contributions might serve to advance F&M's commitment to teaching and mentoring young people from a variety of personal experiences, values, and worldviews that arise from differences of culture and circumstance.

Applicants must submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae, graduate transcript(s), a research statement, a statement of teaching philosophy, and a sampling of teaching evaluation forms via Interfolio (<https://apply.interfolio.com/48093>). Applicants should arrange for three letters to be submitted directly to Interfolio by recommenders. The cover letter should address your qualifications for the position and explicitly indicate which of the aforementioned teaching areas you can serve. Submission of a selected pre/reprints through Interfolio is optional. Applications will be reviewed on a rolling basis, but for full consideration, materials must be submitted by February 16, 2018. Inquiries may be directed to Dr. Josh Rottman, jrottman@fandm.edu.
