Key Findings

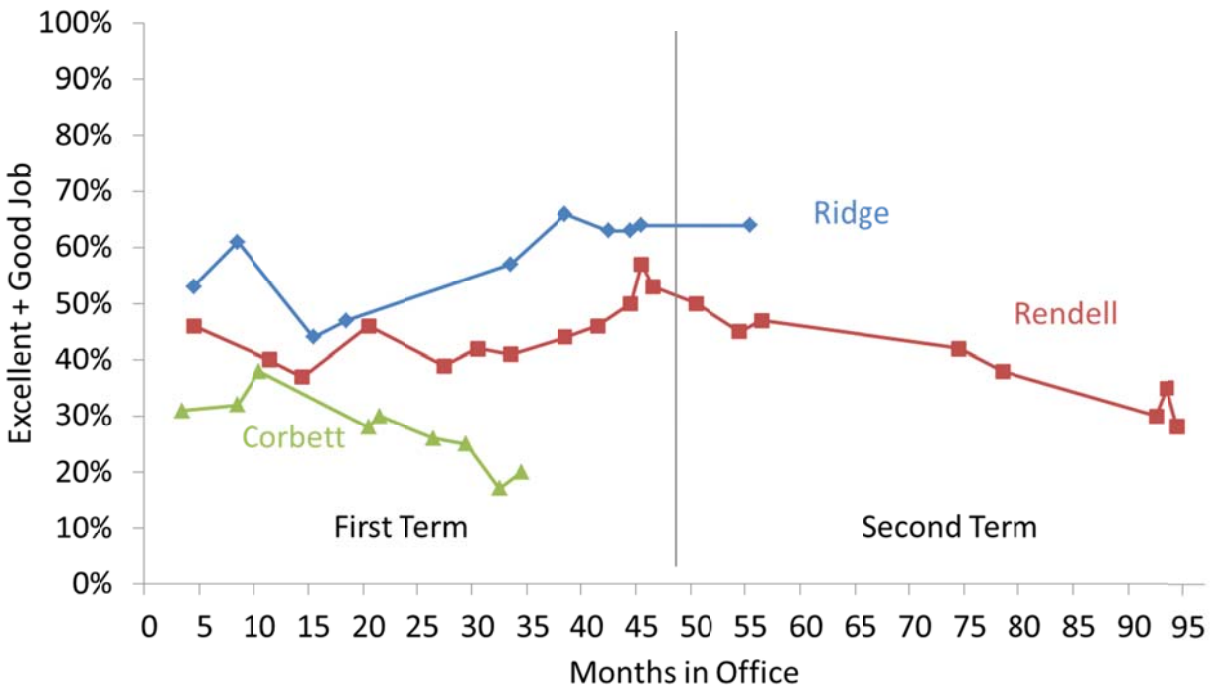

The October 2013 Franklin & Marshall College Poll of Pennsylvania registered voters finds a majority (61%) believes the state is “off on the wrong track” and only one in five (20%) believes Governor Tom Corbett has performed sufficiently well to deserve re-election. Surprisingly, as many registered Republicans believe the Governor should step aside (44%) so another Republican can represent the party in the 2014 election as believe he should run again (42%). Nearly one in four (22%) registered voters believes unemployment and the economy is the state’s most important problem, followed closely by schools and school funding (21%). The Poll also finds strong support for expansion of the state’s Medicaid program.

Governor Corbett’s Job Performance

One in five (19%) registered Pennsylvania voters believes Governor Corbett is doing an “excellent” or “good” job as governor. His job performance ratings are much lower than either Governor Rendell or Governor Ridge at similar points in their first terms (see Figure 1). Only one in three (34%) Republicans rate his performance as “excellent” or “good.” In addition, only one in five (20%) voters believes Governor Corbett has performed sufficiently well to deserve re-election. Few Democrats (7%) or independent voters (19%) believe he deserves re-election, but, surprisingly, less than half (37%) of Republicans do, which is consistent with our August Poll. Underscoring the Governor’s problems with his own party, as many registered Republicans believe he should step aside (44%) so another Republican can represent the party in the 2014 election as believe he should run again (42%). Significantly more Republican men (51%) than Republican women (32%) believe the Governor should run again.

How would you rate the way that [fill Governor] is handling his job as Governor? Would you say he is doing... an excellent job, a good job, only a fair job, or a poor job as Governor?

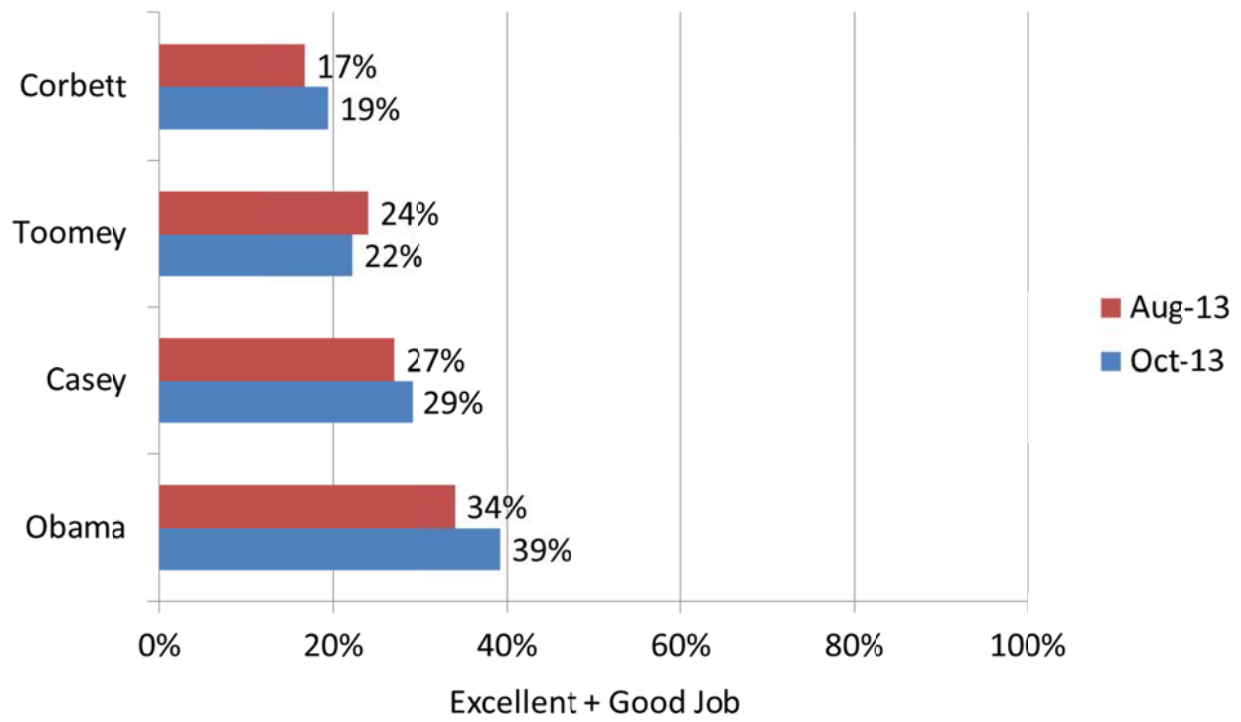

Job Performance Ratings

The job performance ratings of Senators Toomey and Casey have mostly remained steady since the August F&M Poll, while President Obama’s job approval ratings have improved a bit. Two in five (39%) registered Pennsylvania voters believe President Obama is doing an “excellent” or “good” job as President, which is higher than his August ratings (see Figure 2). The government shutdown appears to have helped the President’s job approval ratings in the state, but does not seem to have made a significant difference for the other officials tested.

How would you rate the way that [fill official name] is handling his job as [fill official]? Would you say he is doing... an excellent job, a good job, only a fair job, or a poor job as [fill official]?

Health Care

Nearly two in three (64%) registered voters favor increasing the number of state residents who are eligible for the state's Medicaid program. Support is even higher (72%) for the Governor's proposed Medicaid expansion program that includes the use of private insurance companies and work requirements.

Methodology

The survey findings presented in this release are based on the results of interviews conducted October 22 – 27, 2013. The interviews were conducted at the Center for Opinion Research at Franklin & Marshall College under the direction of the poll's Director Dr. G. Terry Madonna, Head Methodologist Berwood Yost, and Project Manager Jacqueline Redman. The data included in this release represent the responses of 628 Pennsylvania registered voters, including 313 Democrats, 232 Republicans, and 83 registered as Independent/Other. The sample of registered voters was obtained from Voter Contact Services. Survey results were weighted (region and party) using an iterative weighting algorithm to reflect the known distribution of those characteristics as reported by the Pennsylvania Department of State.

The sample error for this survey is +/- 3.9 percentage points. In addition to sampling error, this poll is also subject to other sources of non-sampling error. Generally speaking, two sources of error concern researchers most. Non-response bias is created when selected participants either choose not to participate in the survey or are unavailable for interviewing. Response errors are the product of the question and answer process. Surveys that rely on self-reported behaviors and attitudes are susceptible to biases related to the way respondents process and respond to survey questions.
